TIGERS IN THE CITY

Slovakia, 2012, 90 min
debut feature film by Juraj Krasnohorský
an Artichoke production

cinematography by André Bonzel, co-author of the awarded film Man Bites Dog

genre: romantic comedy

„Tigers in the City is definitely one of the most intelligent films in recent years“

Petra Hanáková – Film.sk

„Stars for the idea, stars for crazyness and stars for the courage to make in our conservative Slovakia something new. A film that entertains.“

Lucia Cízová - Hospodárske Noviny

„This film is loving, positive, open-minded and humorous. That's rare.“

Shina&Dano/Longital

ABOUT THE DIRECTOR

Juraj Krasnohorský (1980) is a Slovak screenwriter, director and producer. He studied and worked for 14 years in Switzerland, Spain and Paris, before returning to Slovakia. He has a Master degree in Theoretical Physics, a Bachelor in Mathematics and a Bachelor in Film Theory. He signed a number of documentary films and short fiction films. In Paris he gave classes of acting for cinema at the prestigious dramatic school Cours Florent. He also worked with Israeli director Amos Gitai and French director André Bonzel. His short film X=X+1 (2009) was distributed in cinemas in Slovakia and shown at numerous film festivals. In 2009, he founded the production company Artichoke. Artichoke produced TIGERS IN THE CITY, Juraj's debut feature, released in Slovakia in June 2012.

SYNOPSIS

Three friends about to turn 30 call themselves animal names: BADGER, HYENA and PIGEON. They like to spend time together in their favorite bar in the Bratislava city Zoo. Badger is a state prosecutor and he is in love with a radio speaker for a Russian weekly magazine about literature. One day Badger decides to take his chance. He ends up in a cobweb of events that will change his life and that of his friends. Pigeon, a somewhat abashed introvert with passion for carrier pigeons wants to help his friend, especially when he discovers that Badger's dream woman has something more to do with Russia than just pure passion for literature. The last of the three, Hyena is a tiger feeder in the Zoo. He loves Badger's nosy sister Jane, who doesn't take anything seriously. Not even Russian mafia.
